Committee for Economic Development

The Committee for Economic Development of The Conference Board (CED) is a nonprofit, nonpartisan, business-led public policy organization that delivers well-researched analysis and reasoned solutions to our nation's most critical issues.

Since its inception in 1942, CED has addressed national priorities that promote sustained economic growth for the benefit of all Americans. CED's work has helped to shape economic policies and initiatives that include the Marshall Plan and Bretton Woods Agreement; campaign finance and education reform; and, short- and long-term challenges to our nation's fiscal health and free-enterprise system. CED's research findings are coupled with outreach efforts throughout the country, achieving tangible impact at the local, state, and national levels.

Our nation requires renewed business leadership to reach the goals that we all share, including increased economic growth and educational opportunities. We need reasoned dialogue to address these civic challenges, and strong business leaders to support, influence, and lead the discussions.

The Distinguished Performance Awards Dinner honors business leaders who have answered CED's call for leadership. We are proud to highlight our history of engaging business leaders in public policy, and look forward to recognizing the many companies and individuals who continue that legacy.

We look forward to having you be part of the Distinguished Performance Awards Dinner.

CED is a nonprofit, nonpartisan, business-led public policy organization and reasoned solutions to our nation's most critical issues.

*as of 8.24.16

the 1990s, the number of people in the world who are under 15 years of age is expected to increase from 1.1 billion to 1.5 billion.

As the world's population grows, the demand for food and other resources will increase. This will put pressure on the environment and on the world's food supply.

One way to meet this demand is to increase the amount of food that is produced. This can be done by using more land for agriculture.

Another way to meet this demand is to increase the efficiency of food production. This can be done by using better farming techniques.

There are many ways to increase food production and efficiency. It is important to find ways that will not harm the environment.

One way to do this is to use sustainable farming practices. This means using methods that will not deplete the soil or harm the environment.

Another way to do this is to use better irrigation systems. This means using methods that will not waste water.
