| V. | Awards Ceremony | Distinguished Leadership Awards presented to Honorees by Introducers |
For more than a quarter century, CED’s Distinguished Leadership Awards have been honoring business leaders and their companies for corporate citizenship and business stewardship. The Awards recognize leaders who demonstrate a strong commitment to corporate responsibility practices and public policy in the nation’s best long-term interests and who advocate policies that address society’s key concerns, including long-term economic growth, educational excellence and achievement, sustainability, corporate governance, innovation, and competitiveness. The Awards exemplify CED’s mission, the legacy of its founders, and its longest-serving Trustee, Peter G. Peterson.

CED’s 2021 Annual Distinguished Leadership Awards Celebration is paying special tribute to business leaders who have demonstrated exceptional leadership in very challenging times by helping our nation navigate the many challenges before us, including defeating the pandemic, ensuring an economic recovery that provides equal opportunity for all Americans, and building a more civil and just society. This year’s program will also honor the frontline health care workers who selflessly served their communities throughout the COVID-19 pandemic.

To continue the conversation with tonight’s Honorees, we invite you to listen to our Conversation Series, Leadership in Challenging Times.

Since its inception in 1942, CED has addressed national priorities that promote sustained economic growth for the benefit of all Americans. CED’s work has helped to shape economic policies and initiatives that include the Marshall Plan and the Bretton Woods Agreement; campaign finance and education reform; and, short- and long-term challenges to our nation’s fiscal health and free enterprise system. CED’s research findings are linked with outreach and program efforts throughout the country, achieving tangible impact at the local, state, and national levels.

Our nation requires committed business leadership to meet the challenges of these unprecedented times and reach the goals that we all share, including sustained economic growth and prosperity shared by all Americans. We need dialogue based on well-researched analysis to address these civic challenges, and strong business leaders to support, guide, and advance solutions in the nation’s interest.

We are honored that you are a part of CED’s Distinguished Leadership Awards, which continues our proud history of engaging business leaders in public policy, and recognizes the many companies and individuals who continue that legacy.

CED is the nonprofit, nonpartisan, business-led public policy center of The Conference Board that delivers well-researched analysis and reasoned solutions in the nation’s interest.

In her 37 years in industry, Judy Marks has witnessed technological advances while applying emerging and mature technologies in a way that benefits society. As President and CEO, Judy is leading Otis through a digital and cultural transformation that will drive its long-term success as an independent, publicly traded company. Otis is the world’s leading company for elevator and escalator manufacturing, installation and service.

Today, Otis is taking its deep knowledge of the hoistway and using it to create digital solutions that serve customers’ needs in an era of intelligent buildings. This includes IoT-based service solutions with proactive data analytics for predictive maintenance; advanced video analytics and dispatching systems to manage varying traffic patterns; and a new generation of elevators that are connected, data rich, safer, healthier, and more intelligent, efficient and comfortable than ever.

“We are living in revolutionary times as the world is digitally transforming,” she says. “Our 69,000 colleagues are on a journey together into the future. We’re continuing to innovate, to find new business models, to serve customers with excellence and to disrupt ourselves to become an end-to-end enabler of passenger mobility in a taller, faster, smarter world.”

Judy has held senior leadership roles at three global icons – IBM, Lockheed Martin and Siemens AG. She was serving as CEO of both Siemens USA and Dresser-Rand, a Siemens business, when appointed President of Otis in 2017. In April 2020, Judy led the successful spin of Otis to an independent publicly traded company on the NYSE.

She built her career on a host of challenging assignments, creating solutions for both global customers and government entities. A self-described technology zealot, Judy applies digital technologies and actively uses social media to amplify the reach of her messages. For Judy, leadership is about creating a sense of mission among colleagues.

“People make a decision every day about what kind of work they’re going to do,” she says. “That’s what I love about Otis colleagues – we know that what we do matters. Across 200 countries and territories, we service over 2 million units and touch 2 billion people every day to keep the world moving.”

Judy serves on the Board of Directors of Otis Worldwide Corporation and AdvanceCT. She earned a degree in electrical engineering from Lehigh University.
John W. Rogers, Jr. is Founder, Chairman, Co-CEO & Chief Investment Officer of Ariel Investments. Headquartered in Chicago, the firm offers five no-load mutual funds for individual investors and defined contribution plans as well as separately managed accounts for institutions and individuals. After working for 2½ years at William Blair & Company, LLC, John founded Ariel Investments in 1983 to focus on undervalued small and medium-sized companies. Patience served as the cornerstone of a disciplined approach that still drives the firm today.

John’s passion for investing started when he was 12 years old when his father bought him stocks, instead of toys, for every birthday and Christmas. His interest grew while majoring in Economics at Princeton University. In addition to following stocks as a college student, John also played basketball under Hall of Fame coach Pete Carril. He was captain of Princeton’s Varsity Basketball Team his senior year. There, Carril’s courtside lessons on teamwork profoundly shaped his views of entrepreneurship and investing.

Early in his career, John’s investment expertise brought him to the forefront of media attention, including being selected as Co-Mutual Fund Manager of the Year by Sylvia Porter’s Personal Finance magazine as well as an All-Star Mutual Fund Manager by USA TODAY.

Ariel Fund, which John started over 30 years ago and still manages today—is the number-one ranked fund among its peer group since the market bottom which followed the Great Financial Crisis. It’s a testament to John’s “slow and steady” patient investment approach, staying focused, remaining true to his convictions, having a contrarian view and investing in great companies that have fallen out of favor. A disciple of Warren Buffett, John believes in being, “Fearful when others are greedy and greedy when others are fearful.” It’s also why John has been highlighted alongside legendary investors Warren Buffett, Sir John Templeton and Ben Graham in the distinguished book: The World’s 99 Greatest Investors by Magnus Angenfelt.
